

about the organization

Bucks County Opportunity Council, Inc. is a non-profit Community Action Agency established in 1965. Our mission is to help low-income people in Bucks County achieve and maintain economic self-sufficiency. We provide a broad range of self-sufficiency, emergency and preventative, free tax preparation, financial literacy and asset development, food assistance and weatherization services. Our services are based on the principle that empowering people with the education, training, resources and skills necessary to permanently leave poverty is far more beneficial than helping them cope in poverty. We work closely with human services organizations, faith-based organizations and others to address local needs and issues affecting low-income individuals and families.

economic self-sufficiency

Empowering motivated, hard-working people with the education, training, resources and skills necessary to achieve and maintain permanent economic self-sufficiency is the cornerstone of our service provision. Participants who qualify for our self-sufficiency program work with our skilled case management team to surpass the following self-sufficiency benchmarks in five years or less:

- Free of all housing, food and cash welfare subsidies.
- Employment that pays a livable wage
- Health insurance for the entire family
- Safe affordable housing
- Balanced budget
- Checking and savings accounts
- Safe reliable transportation
- Reciprocity through community involvement and volunteerism.
- Relationships with supportive, resourceful individuals and organizations

182 families in Bucks County have exceeded the above benchmarks and graduated from the program. Fifty graduates are homeowners.
